STATE UNIVERSITY NEWS NOTES.

The first semester examinations occur the week beginning February 3. The students are now the busiest they have been this year in preparation for the coming tests. The second semester's work will be begun at the close of examination week in order that there will be no waste of time between the two sessions. The two dollar fine for late enrollment will be enforced after February 8.

Manager Chester Morgan of the university baseball team is now making out the 1913 schedule for the Sooners. He has arranged for several good university and college teams to play at Norman and will take the team on a northern trip through Kansas, Missouri and northern Oklahoma the latter part of the season.

The senior class has arranged to stage the popular comedy, "Captain Brassbound's Conversion." Those who will play the important parts are Robert Keenan, Robert Jackson, Miss Williams, B. A. Carls, Edgar Fielding and M. W. Pearl. The play will probably be given the second week of the next semester.

Judge J. A. Baker of Ada, Okla., a member of the constitutional convention and one of the most prominent practitioners of the state, addressed the law students Thursday on "The Reform and Procedure."

The mild weather the past week has caused many of the track aspirants to practice on the cinder path on Boyd Field. The number of new track men will materially strengthen the team this year.

The Sooner basketball team defeated the team from the central normal Tuesday night and the aggregation from the Oklahoma A. & M. on Friday night.

The big Pearson Oil Syndicate of Mexico which has headquarters at Tampico, now has several Oklahoma university geologists in its employ. They are well liked by the big English concern and more like them are wanted daily. The latest Oklahoman to accept the call for Sooners was Roy Hazeltine of Norman who went to Mexico a short time ago. He will be the assistant of Mr. Everett DeGoyer, the Oklahoman who discovered the largest oil well in the world. He is now in charge of all the field work of the large concern.

The Y. M. C. A. gospel team under the direction of Secretary McClelland, will visit Purcell, Okla., February 7, 8 and 9, where it will work among the young men of that place.

Judging from the large number of inquiries which have been made concerning the school of pharmacy at the university, Dean Stocking thinks the second semester will bring an increased enrollment to the school.

V. E. Monnet who has been acting as assistant in the department of geology at the university of Michigan, this year, has recently accepted a flattering offer to do geology work in Venezuela for the big asphalt concern of that place. Mr. Monnet graduated from the university of Oklahoma last year, and took geology as his major.

The Pharmaceutical Era for the month of January contains a picture of Dean Stocking of the school of pharmacy at the university of Oklahoma. An accompanying article of some length describes the rapid growth of the Oklahoma school under the popular direction of its present head.

Prof. B. F. Tanner, debating coach of the university, represented the oratorical council of the institution at a meeting of representatives of the various schools of college rank of the state at Guthrie, Friday, January 31. The purpose of the meeting was to arrange, if possible, a state oratorical league for Oklahoma and seek affiliation with the older states in the Interstate Oratorical Association. If possible, the organization will be formed this year and a state contest will be held in order that Oklahoma may be represented in the larger meet.

Arrangements have been made whereby the students of the high schools of the state will contest in music at the interscholastic track and held meet which is to be held in Norman April 25 and 26, under the auspices of the university. The prizes will consist of free scholarships in the school of fine arts and will cover all fees for instruction. There will be three features of the contest, piano, voice and violin. The first prize will be valued at $72.00; second will be worth $36.00; and the third prize will be worth $18.00. There will be nine prizes in all.
